(Membership details)

Indian Confederation of Medical Laboratory Science (ICMLS) is a national registered umbrella body of Medical Laboratory Science. It is a unifying voice of Indian Medical Laboratory Professionals and their more than 20 Associations. The ICMLS is representing around 50,000 Indian medical laboratory professionals working under various departments under Central Govt. like VMMC & Safdarjung Hospital, Dr RML Hospital, LHMC & SSK Hospital, Kalawati Saran Children's Hospital New Delhi, Departments like CGHS, ESIC, Railway etc. and INIs like AIIMS New Delhi, PGIMER, JIPMER, NIMHANS. It also represents the MLS professionals from State Governments, Autonomous bodies and private healthcare establishments/Laboratories all over India. The mission of ICMLS is to unite all major stakeholders of clinical laboratory sciences from diagnostic & research, and academics fields and to be an advocacy body for improving the overall quality and standards of professional education, services and practices in MLS profession.

Benefits of Membership

- Professional Development: Profession like ours require continuous education and learning of new skills to retain the quality of health care services we provide. Ever advancing Medical Laboratory Technology skills help members to increase their worth in the profession and society as well. Regular Scientific Conferences of ICMLS give an opportunity to its members to keep them updated about the advances in their field. ICMLS also provide latest updates on all emerging professional common issues of its members.
- Networking opportunities: Members can deepen their existing business and professional relationships and forge new contacts regularly. They can attend periodic meetings, be an active member in a sub-committee, or take up a more prominent role. They can make lasting ties with other professionals having common interests or similar concerns. Such relationships are very important source of new ideas and inspiration.
- Updates on policies: National policies and professional legal framework is utmost important for overall development of a particular profession. It's amazing how much one piece of legislation can impact an entire profession. NCAHP Act-2021, CEA-2010 are important example of latest laws in India which requires comprehensive understandings of stakeholders. An expert group of ICMLS is devoted to updating members about these laws & changes.
- Support system: ICMLS provide a visible and strong support system to its members both on Association and Individual levels. Various professional issues can be raised and even solved on much bigger social and political platform whereas an individual member or association might face limitations in same. Mentors and executive committee members at ICMLS hold the responsibility to observe and address every big and small common hurdle faced by the members. Also, the feeling that you have a support system would boost your confidence too.
- Professional Advocacy: There are various important regulatory issues which affects the quality of services of entire profession like standards of professional education & trainings, setting uniformity in Recruitment Rules, pay structure, career pathway, job roles, scope of practice etc. ICMLS advocates provide support for the professional issues and educate members about how to prepare for such changes.
- Awards & Scholarship: ICMLS recognizes the outstanding contribution of its members in different areas of profession and provides 5 prestigious Awards to its members during Annual Conference.
- Social Development: Members can be part of various social initiatives undertaken during NMLPW from 17th to 23 July every year
